DiST, Angamaly

I, Fr. (Dr.) James Chelapurath VC declare that the particulars given above are true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

Fr. (Dr.) James Chelapurath VC

June 2015
St. Vincent was born of poor parents in the village of Pouy in Gascony, France, about 1580. He enjoyed his first schooling under the Franciscan Fathers at Acqs. Such had been his progress in four years that a gentleman chose him as sub preceptor to his children, and he was thus enabled to continue his studies without being a burden to his parents. In 1596, he went to the University of Toulouse for theological studies, and there he was ordained priest in 1600.

In 1605, on a voyage by sea from Marseilles to Narbonne, he fell into the hands of African pirates and was carried as a slave to Tunis. His captivity lasted about two years, until Divine Providence enabled him to effect his escape. After a brief visit to Rome he returned to France, where he became preceptor in the family of Emmanuel de Gondy, Count of Goigny, and General of the galleys of France. In 1617, he began to preach missions, and in 1625, he lay the foundations of a congregation which afterward became the Congregation of the Mission or Lazarists, so named on account of the Priory of St. Lazarus, which the Fathers began to occupy in 1633.

It would be impossible to enumerate all the works of this servant of God. Charity was his predominant virtue. It extended to all classes of persons, from forsaken childhood to old age. The Sisters of Charity also owe the foundation of their congregation to St. Vincent. In the midst of the most distracting occupations his soul was always intimately united with God. Though honored by the great ones of the world, he remained deeply rooted in humility. The Apostle of Charity, the immortal Vincent de Paul, breathed his last in Paris at the age of eighty. His feast day is September 27th. He is the patron of charitable societies.
“Let us protect with love all that God has given us”

I am happy to know that De Paul Institute of Science & Technology, Angamaly, run by the Vincentian Fathers is publishing a college magazine. May it bring forth added joy to all those who contribute towards this educative and memorable work with their erudite pens! Doubtlessly this is an effective medium to explore the creativity, imagination and the writing talents of the young budding artists, poets and writers. Moreover, eminent personalities with their lofty articles will decorate this magazine.

It is a matter of great pride that this college, which is affiliated to the MG University and approved by AICTE and ISO 9001:2008 certified institution, has made remarkable progress in academic and co-curricular activities. It deserves appreciation the role played by this college to provide its students quality education by offering a number of postgraduate and undergraduate courses but always without compromising the moral values.

At the very heart of the Gospel is the dynamics of learning. The Christian learns by constantly reflecting upon one’s life experiences lived with the gift of faith. Through such experiences lived with the gift of faith. Through such experiences we grow in our lives as Christ’s body the church. Lives which witness to the presence and action of Jesus Christ our risen lord who reveals the life of God: a life of love. As the second Vatican council’s declaration on Christian education states: ‘Education is in a very special way, the concern of the church not only because the church must be recognized as a human society capable of imparting education, but especially it has the duty of proclaiming the way of salvation to all the men, revealing the life of Christ to those who believe, and of assisting them with unremitting care so that they may be able to attain to the fullness of that life.’

Let me congratulate the Vincentian fathers on their efficient management, the principal, teaching and non-teaching staff and the students on their commendable achievement. I wish everybody every success in achieving greater success and scaling newer heights in the academic endeavor ahead!

With every good wish and blessings,

GEORGE CARDINAL ALENCHEERRY
Major Archbishop of the Syro-Malabar Church
I am glad to know that De Paul Institute of Science and Technology, Angamaly South, intends to bring out its College Magazine containing articles by the students and the faculty.

I am sure the students will avail of this opportunity to show their excellence.

I wish the venture all success

P. Sathasivam
I am glad to know, that De Paul Institute of Science & Technology, Angamaly would be releasing a magazine for the academic year 2014-15.

I hope that the facilities and opportunities at De Paul Institute of Science & Technology, Angamaly, would enable its students to attain greater academic excellence and to pursue rewarding careers. I also hope the collective efforts of all associated with the college would enable to scale greater heights in the future.

Wishing all success

Oommen Chandy
It gives me immense pleasure to learn that De Paul Institute of Science & Technology, Angamaly South is planning to bring out a magazine. I believe that it will be an asset to the academic community to realise their aptitudes and virtues.

I wish all success to the event.

I am pleased to learn that De Paul Institute of Science and Technology (DiST), Angamaly is bringing out a college magazine as part of the College Union Activities.

DiST is one of the premier teaching institutions of Kerala and has been maintaining a global standard in the field. Modern education, curriculum development and teaching methodologies have to keep pace with the demand of the economic environment. Overall development of the individual is the goal of education and at the same time we all have to ensure that the democratic principles are upholding in every sphere of academic life.

I am sure that the college magazine will provide a platform to the students to sharpen their writing talent and will strengthen the academic activities of the college.

I send my warm greetings and good wishes to your magazine.

Yours Sincerely

Innocent
I am very much delighted to learn that your esteemed institution is bringing out a college magazine holding lofty articles of the eminent personalities.

This kind of publication is very useful to cater and express the literary potentialities of the younger generation as well as to provide a new vision on education and culture of our nation. I am fully aware of the valuable service rendered by your institution to develop the caliber of the students to make them fit to meet the heavy responsibilities ahead of them.

I wish you, colleagues and the students the very best to bring out a colorful Magazine of your dreams and choice.

Jose Thettayil
I am delighted to know that DiST is publishing a Souvenir. Within the short span of just a decade, DiST has grown up and has earned the reputation as a prestigious institution for professional studies, offering, seven prominent Post Graduate Courses and Six degree courses. The goal of education is the formation and transformation of the young people. DiST is strongly committed to transform its students into excellent professionals. Besides, it makes sure that the students imbibe the spirit of service, equality and fraternity.

With great joy, I congratulate the Principal Fr. James Chelapurath VC, the members of the staff and the students.

May God bless DiST and lead it to even greater heights in the service of the nation and its young people.

FR. (DR.) VARGHESE PARAPPURAM VC
“Any human anywhere will blossom in a hundred unexpected talents and capacities simply by being given the opportunity to do so.” These words of Doris Lessing, the renowned British artist and the winner of 2007 Nobel Prize in Literature - though apparently seems to be a bit exaggerating - however, is true to quite an extent when we delve into the lives of great personalities in the history. Opportunities, provided that they have been properly utilized, have scripted several stories of success and have given rise to talented and extraordinary gems to this world.

It gives me great joy and pride to learn that De Paul Institute of Science and Technology (DiST) is publishing its college magazine this year. Educational Institutions are not factories producing mere “intellectual products; but they are the cradles which provide wings to the artistic and academic talents of the students, and shape their thoughts and character to form responsible citizens for the society and the nation. I am happy that the students of DiST are given ample opportunities for their overall growth. Indeed the publication of this magazine is a unique opportunity for the students to discover and develop their latent God-given talents to the best of their ability, and thereby enabling them to attain a well-balanced character, and a truly successful and fruitful life.

The journey of a thousand miles begins with one step. I hope and pray that may this creative venture be that one little but firm step towards your goal. May these small creative initiatives prepare you to take up greater initiatives in your fields of expertise. I avail myself of this opportunity to appreciate those who have made creative contributions to this magazine, and also congratulate all the members of the Editorial Board for their sincere efforts and hard work, and the staff members of DiST who have extended their wholehearted support and encouragement to make this magazine a reality.

Wishing you all God’s bountiful blessings!

Fr. (Dr.)Paul Puthuva VC
I am immensely happy to learn that De Paul Institute of Science & Technology (DiST), Angamaly is bringing out the College Magazine, Intelligentsia 2015, this year. I hope that this will provide ample opportunities for its students to discover and develop their skills and talents. I appreciate all the members of the Editorial Board for their commitment and hard work to materialize this attempt.

Let me take the opportunity to applaud the efforts of Rev. Fr. George Elenjikkalputhenthara VC, the former Vice Principal and Rev. Fr. Jacob Chirayil VC, the former Hostel Director, for all their hard work, sincere and dedicated efforts during their tenure in keeping the DiST flag flying high.

I am very cheerful to learn that DiST imparts quality education with affordable fees to its students to make them responsible citizens. I Congratulate Rev. Fr. James Chelapurath VC, Principal, Rev. Fr. Macwan Samir VC, Vice Principal, Rev. Fr. Baiju Poovathamoottil VC, Finance Officer, Rev. Fr. Robin Chittooparmabil VC, Director, Animation Programme and Rev. Fr. John Erambil VC, Hostel Director and all the staff members who are committed for the development of the students and the institute.

Invoking God’s blessings on all your endeavours, I remain.

Dear Friends,
I am indeed very happy to know that our college magazine Intelligentia 2015 will be published very soon. Hearty congratulations to the staff advisors and student editors who motivated the students to make this a reality. Also I congratulate students who contributed to this magazine through their literary and artistic creations.

A human being is made up of soul, mind and body. Only when the needs of all these three are fulfilled, a person can find true happiness in life. True education provides for all these aspects of human life. In the ancient gurukula system of education all these needs were taken care of. In the present times the science and technology have developed so much that no one person can impart all the knowledge one needs nor a single individual can master everything. But all the same we must keep a holistic view of life in education. Only then a student will be able to fulfill his duties in the family and the wider society. It is not enough that a student becomes merely employable for a particular job, but he/she must be trained to lead a meaningful life. Education should make us not merely learned, but wise. It is here that we pay attention to the needs of the soul. Ancient sages of our country have laid down four goals in human life: dharma (justice), artha (wealth), kama (enjoyment of pleasure) and moksha (liberation). Due importance to all these values will help us to lead a balanced life. Jesus said “One does not live by bread alone, but by every word that comes forth from the mouth of God.” (Mt 4: 4) “What profit is there for one to gain the whole world yet lose or forfeit himself.” (Lk9:25) Other religious founders and philosophers also have spoken in the similar vein.

DiST has chosen its motto “timeless values, timely vision” keeping in mind the above said values. All the activities in the Institute are to be understood and practiced in this light. Our patron Saint Vincent de Paul looked after both spiritual and material needs of the people, especially the poor. He has asked his followers also to do the same. The publication of this college magazine also is to be seen in this spirit of holistic development of the students. I am sure the organizers and contributors have ample opportunities to develop their leadership qualities, team spirit, literary and artistic talents. It is my wish and prayer that the readers also will be inspired to move from knowledge to wisdom.

One more year has passed. Here, we are at the edge of another academic year in our life with lot of happiness and enthusiasm. It comes to the release of our college magazine 2015, I would like to have a quick rewind. It was a nice journey through a long path with lots of fun and hard work. Many themes, suggestions, names etc... Were passed through our minds.

I thank almighty God for his blessing that lead us through the right path of work. I am grateful to our management, Principal, head of the departments, teaching and non-teaching staff and the blooming buds of DiST, for their great support and contribution to INTELLIGENTSIA 2k15.

I am in the position of student editor to write these notes. But as you know the reality of Intelligentsia 2k15 is not my sole work. So, I would like to give thanks to our staff advisors Mrs. Suja C.K. and Mr. Aji Joseph for their great support that led the way to make Intelligentsia 2k15 a reality, and to all colleagues for their tireless effort which helped us a lot and I would like to remember them too.

At last as the fruit of our efforts, we present you ‘Intelligentsia 2k15‘…

Being a Staff advisor, Its gives me an immense pleasure to pen down for ‘Intelligensia 15’.

Since its inception DiST has passionately pursued education excellence and we could succeed in producing a number of University rank holders in different departments and to create a generation with difference.

Intelligentsia is the heartbeat of DiST family. It always tries to cherish and entertain a community of diverse readership including staff, students, parents about the cultural, academic, sports and literary activities & achievements of the college during that academic year.

I hope this year magazine could reflect the creative talents of entire student community and achievements of DiST.

I take this opportunity to congratulate all the Union members for their hard work and effort and my sincere thanks to the Management, staff and students for their whole hearted support.

With gratitude............................

Ms. Suja C.K.
Staff Advisor
To build up a center par excellence equipped to mould outstanding young professionals in relevant fields integrating the physical, intellectual, emotional & spiritual dimensions of their lives through focused training and person specific career counseling so that they may observe unflinching allegiance to the society.

To bring out of a human being what is the best in him/her by imparting excellent, up-to-date training in the field of new technologies, integrating the spiritual, intellectual and human dimensions, and face global challenges, thus preparing him/her for an enriching and fulfilling future.
With a profound sense of gratitude, I may invite your attention towards all the important events and achievements of DiST during the academic year 2014-'15. During a short span of time, DiST has attained a remarkable position in the field of socially committed professional education in Kerala. Here I take this opportunity to express my heartfelt gratitude towards all the respected personalities who are the benefactors and well-wishers of DiST. It is they who helped DiST to acquire this top position. No doubt, it is the result of the sincere effort and support of many important persons especially the authorities of the Vincentian congregation, Very Rev. Fr. (Dr.) Varghese Parappuram V.C., Superior General of the Vincentian Congregation and his councillors, very Rev. Fr. (Dr.) Paul Puthuva V.C., Provincial Superior of the Marymatha Province and his councillors, Rev. Fr.(Dr.) Alex Chalangady V.C., our former principal and now our Associate Manager, Rev. Fr. George ElenjickalPuthentharayil V.C. Vice Principal, Rev. Fr. Baiju Poovathummootil V.C Finance Director, Rev. Fr. Jacob Chirayil VC Director of Infra Structure Development, Rev. Fr. Varghese Perinchery V.C., Director VSS, Fr. Varghese Menachery VC Student Counselor and Superior of the Vincentian House, devoted and committed teaching and non-teaching staff and our smart and enthusiastic students. ANNUAL REPORT OF THE SCHOOL OF COMPUTER SCIENCE (UG)

School of Computer Science (UG), in its endeavor to persistently strive for achieving excellence in computing disciplines, kept its pace to implement several planned initiatives to enable the students to increase social and technological outputs. Some of the important domains in which the Department devoted its attention during the year are: strengthening the pool of IT professionals for carrying out globally competitive products; nurturing good social behavior and commitments among students and developing capacity of institutions and faculties.

To empower the students with positive inputs and to uplift the talents of students, an IT meet in the name of Luminous was hosted for the first time. This year, the First edition of Luminous was conducted on 15th January 2015. To create awareness on the current trends in the field of Information Technology, several seminars and workshops were conducted.

The department motivates the staff and students by allowing them to participate in the various relevant programs outside campus.

Social work grew out of humanitarian and democratic ideals, and its values are based on respect for the equality, worth, and dignity of all people.

Social work profession addresses the barriers, inequities and injustices that exist in society. Its mission is to help people to develop their full potential, enrich their lives, and prevent dysfunction. Professional social work is focused on problem solving and change. As such, social workers are change agents in society and in the lives of the individuals, families and communities they serve.

A plethora of different events were organized in the year 2014 – 2015. School of Social Work provides a platform where each and every student can carve out their own place, and yet work in synergy to create a better tomorrow.

REPORT OF DE PAUL CENTRE FOR RESEARCH & DEVELOPMENT (DCRD)

Dr. Vinay Raj R took over as the new Director of DCRD in the month of September 2014. Main responsibilities of DCRD is to introduce a journal, to improve research activities in the college and in future to go for NAAC accreditation. As a first step to start the journal a 23 member editorial board was formed which consists of leading academicians and researchers from India and Abroad. The name of the journal is De Paul Journal of Scientific Research (DJSR). Journal will be published annually in both online and print version. A separate website was created for DCRD in the month of November (www.dcrd.in). The first editorial board meeting was conducted on 14/10/14. In the meeting it was decided that to maintain quality of the journal its necessary not to charge from the authors. DCRD received the ISBN Number (International standard Book Number) (10 numbers) in the month of may 2014 (12/05/2014) and ISSN (International Standard Serial Number) number for online in the month of November 2014, (17/11/14) and ISSN for print in the month of December 2014, (08/12/14). First edition of the journal was published in the month of March 2015. DCRD conducted an interaction session with Mr. T. P. Sreenivasan (Former Ambassador to United Nations, Vice Chairman, Kerala Higher Educational Council) in the month of November (14/10/14) for faculty members of DiST. In the Month of October 2014 Preliminary works of NAAC accreditation process started. Two books were published by DCRD with the help of School of Social work and De Paul extension Services (DES) in the month of November 2014. Following are the details of the book- 1) International conference on social work practice (Mental Health) Book of Abstracts, edited by Mr. Tone & Mr. Xavier Vinayaraj. 2) Social work perspectives in mental health edited by Ms. Sonny Jose, Mr. Rajeev S P & Mr. Jose Antony.

DEPAUL EXTENSION SERVICES (DES) REPORT

For the last 9 years, De Paul Extension Services (DES) has been rendering empowering services in the neighbouring communities through various activities. Rooted in the principles of social work and human empowerment it extends the social commitment of DiST to the communities around.

Along with De Paul International Centre for Wellbeing (DICW) it conducted an International Conference on Social Work Practice in Mental Health on 10-12 December, 2014. Jointly organised by the Social Work Department of DiST, Centacare, Australia and James Cook University, Australia, the conference was an effort to promote learning and collaboration within an International network to respond to the mental health issues highlighted by the World health Organisation. There was a pre-conference workshop for 5 days, on ‘Understanding & learning the neurobiology of trauma’ by Sarah Petersen (Senior Counsellor, CentaCare, Australia) which was held on 3-7 December, 2014. A post-conference seminar was organised on 13 December, 2014.

In order to study the advantages and challenges of counselling among the school children and to assess the facilities provided in the schools for their mental health a research among the school social workers was initiated by DES. The pre-test is done and the process of conducting it in full flow is undergoing.

De Paul Education Empowerment Program (DEEP) - a free tuition program for the economically backward high school students in Nedumbassery panchayat was inaugurated on 20 June 2015. Students from DiST volunteer to go to 3 centres in the community and take classes for 26 children.

As part of the community intervention programs a medical camp at Kanjoor and an awareness camp on life-style diseases at Nedumbassery were arranged in association with Al Shifa Hospital, Edapally. An awareness class for women was conducted at Pandupara in Ayyampuzha panchayat. For the empowerment of women in the communities, a scheme of community development, initiated by the government of India was undertaken by DES. Collaborating with the Govt. Polytechnic DES arranged certificate courses in glass painting, fabric painting, flower making and stitching which were useful for 58 ladies from communities around DiST.
PTA EXECUTIVE MEETING REPORT

The first PTA Executive meeting for the academic year 2014-15 was held on 18th October 2014 in DiST Board room at 3.pm. The meeting started with a silent prayer, followed by welcome note by Ms. Sheena Jose, PTA staff secretary. The presidential address was rendered by The Principal Dr. Fr. James Chelapurath V.C., The important points were as follows :-

- He expressed the gratitude towards the PTA executive members for their support and help rendered for the development of the college.
- He announced the new courses of BA Animation, MCA Lateral Entry and MCA Dual Degree.
- Also informed about the availability of English trainers, Full time councilors, Lab facilities etc.
- He was very happy to inform about the increase in the number of students and faculties in our college.
- It has been decided to conduct the value added classes for students on 19th November 2014 for their mental and physical development.
- Also planned to give career guidance classes for students.
- Also explained the various activities of DCRD.
- He appreciated all the faculties and students who participated in the successful conduct of rally on International Anti-drugs Day.
- It was followed by election to PTA Executive and Advisory board for the academic year 2014-15. After that there was an open discussion. In that discussion parents asked about the action against the students those who violate the rules and also to inform the parents on these matters. Also appreciated the management for introducing uniform on all the working days.

The meeting came to an end by the vote of thanks delivered by Mr. Denny P. Varghese, MCA department.

FINISHING SCHOOL

Improvement in English has become inevitable, since it has been accepted as a common language across the globe. De Paul Finishing School started English Training sessions in the academic year 2014-2015. This course has been planned to improve the communication skills of the students of De Paul Institute of Science and Technology, focusing on the importance of soft skills which can be helpful to them in dealing with different situations in their life. It will be of much help for the students in gaining confidence to attend interviews since good communication is expected from them.

STRATEGIES ADOPTED IN THE PROGRAM

As the program was aiming at the improvement in language, group discussions and individual speaking sessions were given much importance. A variety of topics were given to them for discussions. Mock interviews were conducted followed by feedback so that they could change their behavior and attitude at an interview. Moreover, as it was discovered that students were fond of learning through fun, many games were planned for classes. Through such games, the students were forced to speak in the class without creating a feeling that they are seriously learning something. The distance and friction between the teacher and students were minimized through such activities, which gave them opportunities to speak openly without any hesitation. The program was flexible and students’ feedback was taken at times to keep it live and useful.

EVALUATION

As planned before, students were assessed (pre-assessment) to know where they stood, immediately after the self-introduction sessions. This was done with an intention to evaluate the improvement they would have during this one-year-period. The assessment was based on 4 criteria such as fluency, grammar, pronunciation and vocabulary. Each student was assessed individually so that a clear picture of everyone could be available. At the end of the program of 60 hours, they were assessed again (post-assessment) based on the same criteria, as a final assessment. It was proved that the program was successful as students were found speaking and interacting with better fluency, grammar, pronunciation and vocabulary. The evaluation was either based on the public speaking skills of the pupils or by interviewing them individually, which was helpful in getting an idea of the overall performance of the candidate.

A Word of Thanks

Now I take this opportunity to express my deep gratitude to the Provincial Administration for its moral support and financial backing, to the superior and conferrers of the Vincentian House for their encouragement and cooperation, to Rev. Fr. Jose Kalapura VC, the Principal of the De Paul College, Rev. Fr. Franco Choondal VC its Bursar and all their staff for their generous help and cooperation in the successful conduct of the events of DiST in the College auditorium. Also I place on record the services rendered by Rev. Fr. Raju Choorackal VC, the Principal of the DePaul EMHS, Rev. Fr. John Pullan VC, its bursar and their staff for their support and understanding in the various activities of DiST. We are also grateful to Very Rev. Sr. Eucharist CPS, the Superior General of the Preshitaram Sisters for making their sisters available for looking after the Ladies’ Hostel. Whatever DiST has achieved so far would not have been possible without the selfless and sincere service of our teaching and non-teaching staff. Parents have been always very supportive through their valuable suggestions. My dear beloved students, DiST exists for you. Just as the glory of God is man fully alive, so also the glory of DiST is your success in your personal and professional life. You make this campus vibrant and alive. I also convey my heartfelt thanks to all members of the advisory board for their timely advice and sincere support.

I bow my head in adoration and thanksgiving before the God almighty who is the real source of strength in the growth of Dist. I also invoke the blessings of St. Vincent De Paul, our heavenly patron and late Very Rev. Fr. Varkey Kattarath, the founder of Vincentian Congregation. With these words I submit this annual report of DiST for the year 2014 – 2015 before you for your approbation

Father, who was in the middle of 70s, had been alone at home for several years. His children were abroad with their family. Notification from doctors made them to come back and the situations compelled them to stay with their father.

(Son thinking); “Father you taught me how to walk; walking stage is almost over in my life. Now I am running, it’s difficult to feel calm with an empty bank account. But we will be with you at this moment, isn’t this all you want.

Days passed and weeks went by,

Children got upset with their father’s behaviour day by day

Son: “Dad, you are losing everything, you don’t know where you are going and how to come back. You don’t even know the time. It’s difficult to look after you if you are not adjusting with the situation; you are suffering from Alzheimers”

Father: “I admit, I am a patient but you are not. You may feel difficult to take care of me, to deal with me for the past 6 months. But you forgot me for the past 15 years. I didn’t forget but I don’t like to remember what you have done to me. Are you feeling better now?”
Some of us are teachers, some are writers, social workers, celebrities, anchors, speakers, story tellers, singers, athletes, film makers and coding experts etc. Why these all differ? It is because of the different decisions that we made in certain stages in our life.

But there is something common that we have in. What’s that? A fighter. A fighter who will be within us till our last breath.

Our skills, knowledge, opinions, perceptions, and our ethics will be tested one day. That may be the time we feel like we have fallen so deep.. no shoes on afeet.. and could break down, right here on this shore or go astray.

The colours of life turns into grey like the boat, I'm in onto the crashing waves. The waves are calling out my name and they laugh at me. Reminding me of all the times I've tried before and failed. The waves they keep on telling me time and time again, “Boy, you’ll never win!” now that's that thing called “life”.

It is always changing; sometimes you’re up, and sometimes you're down.

I stumbled in the wind. My strength is almost gone. How can I carry on? The side that I don't show to anyone. In fear that they may turn and run. Alone and incomplete. No more tears to cry. No more blood to bleed. I don't know what's left of me.

But the voice of the fighter tells me a different story.
And says, “Do not be afraid!”
I barely hear that sound through the rain
“I’m with you”
So when the rain is coming down, Feel you can’t stand your ground, I won’t let you drown.

Looking at the wreckage anyone would guess that all inside had died. But I’m alive.

But during those down moments, that’s where the growth takes place. The real challenge of growth comes when you get knocked down.
You can let it destroy your life or you can build upon it. Forgive and grow. Our mind is the battleground, touch somebody and tell them the enemy is after your mind. It is the way you see it, it is the way you think it.
“I am coming back.”

Once you make a decision and you go all in.

There is always a war in the horizon. A time of hardship and pain. We may win the battle.
But the war against them rages on. And struggle will remain strong, but we will not quit, until we get there.

-“When the world count your trophies, do count your ATTEMPTS”
"No language can express the power, beauty, heroism, and majesty of a mother’s love. It shrinks not where man cowers, and grows stronger where man faints, and over wastes of worldly fortunes sends the radiance of its quenchless fidelity like a star."

- Edwin Hubbell Chapin

Our friends and family play a large role in who we are today, and who we will be in the future. The biggest influence comes from our family through mother. My mother taught me everything from how to eat and dress myself, how to react to any situation, more than everything she taught me how to be a good human. She taught me little things like how to tie my shoes and to be polite and respect others.

I would be lost without my mother, I can trust her, and she’s really important for me. She listens me. My mother is my security blanket. No matter how bad of a day she had she will always be there to listen me. I talk to her about everything — even things that aren’t always easy to talk about.
I would be lost without my mother, I can trust her, and she’s really important for me. She listens me. My mother is my security blanket. No matter how bad of a day she had, she will always be there to listen me. I talk to her about everything — even things that aren’t always easy to talk about.

She will still be eager to hear me squeal over my drama-filled teenage gossip or vent about how overwhelming life can be. She puts up with my mood swings, my constant chatter and my continuous requests — and still manages to keep our home, and everyone in it, in order.

Whenever something becomes too much for me, she is there calming me down — giving me a hug and telling me it’s going to be OK. She can even prevent me from hyperventilating by finding my “lost” things. (It was, of course, in the open, in the first place I checked). No matter what the scenario is, my mother always makes me feel better. And she does this all with a smile — even when I forget to say ‘thank you’. My mother loves me so much that I sometimes get frustrated at her for not letting me make my own decisions (because she already knows I won’t always make the best choice for me).

I’m afraid that one day I will end up screaming at her to leave me alone. I know almost every teenage girl does this, and feels guilty afterward. But it’s just a matter of knowing how to apologize. Her love is unconditional, so she is forgiving.

My mom understands I’m my own person — even if I’ll always be her little girl. And she forgives because she understands me better than all others. She’s been there. It can be hard to remember sometimes, but it’s something I won’t forget.

My mother always encourages me to reach my full potential. She supports me and always encourages me to go after my dreams. She has taught me what is right and what is wrong, and what I should do when I make a decision.

She is always a voice of reason in the back of my head, which helps me get through my bad days and make my good days even better. Most of all, my mother teaches me how to be compassionate and loving.

I am happy to have my mother in my life; she helped me become the best person I can be. Even our families are there with us but words are not enough to express the unconditional love that exists between my mother and me.
THREE KEYS TO HAPPINESS

Something to Do
How many times have we felt unhappy with life because we simply had too much idle time? I know it has happened in my own life. When I get bored, I get down, and I only snap out of it when I start to get busy again. The thing is, we have to recognize this pattern and stay busy to keep our mood elevated. Find a hobby. Volunteer your free time. Learn to cook. Coach youth sports. There are endless possibilities for “something to do” if we take the time to look.

Something to Love
Friends and family are such an important element to our ultimate happiness. The one source of inspiration to get through all this worries is being with the family. If you are single, you may have a best friend who always knows just how to pick you up, or make you laugh when you want to cry. Pets can even be an incredible source of companionship, there to greet you at the end of a long day.

Something to Hope For Everyone should have something to hope for. Something that drives them towards a goal. It’s been said that if you aim for nothing, you’ll hit it every time. Have something to aim for; a dream that you hold close and never let completely out of sight. When people lose hope they get complacent, and complacency often leads to a poor attitude. This self-perpetuating cycle of negativity can lead to serious depression, and ultimately harm cherished relationships. I know, I’ve been in a rut myself and I lost sight of the dreams I once held close. But all hope is never lost, you just may have to work a little harder temporarily to catch up and see those dreams around the next corner again.
"The only difference in a rut and a grave is six feet." If you find yourself in a rut, stop digging. Start moving in the direction of your dreams and things will begin to improve. If your goal is debt freedom, stop charging to your credit cards and start paying all you can pay on outstanding debts. Do not be overwhelmed by the distance to the finish line. If your goal is to lose weight, do not focus on how far you are from your goal weight. Instead, take it one day, one meal, one bite, one workout at a time and begin to move in the direction of your dreams. The bottom line is we are responsible for our own happiness. Government programmes, promises from elected officials, and pats on the back from bosses may offer temporary mood boosts, but ultimately happiness is a self-induced state of mind. Be responsible for your own happiness.

If you are single, you may have a best friend who always knows just how to pick you up, or make you laugh when you want to cry.
1. RANG DE BASANTI

This movie needs no introduction. Rang De Basanti revolves around lives of a group of students who protest against the government and the fighter MIG planes used by the Air Force after the death of their friend in a plane crash. This thought-provoking movie created a huge impact socially with the candle lighting sequence which is often used in real life even now by citizens for protesting an issue.

The film left a social impact as many people came forward to talk about corruption and bureaucracy and their inefficiency in providing basic amenities. The film managed to strike the right chord and received huge success. The term “RDB effect” is often used while referring to instances of public activism on matters of public interest. It gives inspiration to the youth of the country that even he/she can bring a change in the society.

2. CHAK DE INDIA

Chak De India is one movie that played an important role in reviving popularity of hockey, especially women hockey in India. One of the finest performances by Shah Rukh Khan, Chak De! India talks about religion, sexism, India partition, regional prejudice, emotions and lot more through field hockey.
After a new hockey council was formed, former hockey player, Aslam Sher Khan, stated in an interview, “We have to make a Team India as you have seen in bollywood blockbuster Chak De! India. There are players from several parts of the country. We have to unite them to make a powerful force.” Chak De! India was granted tax exemptions by the state of Bihar.

3. TAARE ZAMEEN PAR

Whenever parents see their child scoring low in exams, they blame it on his carelessness and ask him to pay more attention to his studies. The child is sometimes grounded, isn’t allowed to watch tv or play his favourite video game so that he could concentrate more on his career. Hardly do we notice that it can be much more than just carelessness from the child’s side.

The movie beautifully captures life of Ishaan, a dyslexic kid who struggles everyday to do simple things of life. As simple as tying a shoe lace. It spreads a message to all those families who want their kid to excel in everything – every kid is different and has different needs.

4. 3 IDIOTS

The revolutionary movie that gave a whole new twist to the Indian education system. The movie gives a message that education doesn’t require money, uniform, big schools and colleges, all it requires is the strong will to study. The story also focuses on how the education system should look beyond high grades and should focus on what a kid wants to do.

Released in 2009 and directed by Raju Hiraani, the film stars Amir Khan, Kareena Kapoor, R. Madhavan, Sharman Joshi, Omi Vaidya and Boman Irani. The film broke all opening box office records in India. The film also uses real inventions by little-known people in India’s backyards, and has won 40 accolades.

5. SWADES

A fine performance by Shah Rukh Khan, the movie focuses on the issue of brain drain and Indians moving abroad for greener pastures. The story revolves around the life of an NRI who works for NASA and how his visit to a village changes his life along with hundreds of other villagers. The movie inspired a lot of NRIs to come back to the roots and work for the country. The movie gives a message that a little help from the fortunate and educated ones can help the underprivileged to a great extent.

5. OMG...OH MY GOD

India is a religious country. With 330 millions Gods to worship, it has become a business for some. The movie released in 2012 starred Akshay Kumar, Paresh Rawal and Mithun Chakravorty. In spite of touching on a sensitive subject, the movie received a great response from both the audience and critics. Without being preachy and boring, the film teaches us how we should not look for God in idols and be blindfolded by those who try to play with people’s emotions in the name of God.

6. BLACK FRIDAY

The film is based on the 1993 serial bomb blasts in Mumbai which many believe were organised as retaliation for the Bombay riots which left over 300 people dead and more than 1500 people injured. The film has been appreciated by critics all over the world. Written and directed by Anurag Kashyap and based on a book by S. Hussain Zaidi, this movie was not allowed to be released by the Indian censor board for 2 years!

7. MATRUBHOOMI

The movie based on the social issue of female foeticide, showcases the future of the country if we keep killing the girl child. There are still many places where a boy's birth is rejoiced while a girl child is killed. The movie revolves around the story of a girl who is married to five brothers. The movie portrays the glimpse of the cruel society and leaves a message of saving a girl child.

8. KYA KEHNA

The film dealt with the taboo issue of pre-marital pregnancy and the views of society. No matter how much the country progresses, there are certain things which still cause raised eyebrows. And, pre-marital pregnancy is one of those issues. The movie starring Preity Zinta and Saif Ali Khan focuses on this bold issue and spread a message of how unmarried pregnant girls should be given equal love, respect and support in the society.
9. DOR

The story is based on the lives of two women and how fate brings them together. The film beautifully captures the emotions of a widow (Meera) and a lady (Zeenat) who is trying to save her husband. The movie also portrays the life of a woman in India after the death of her husband and the difficulties faced by her. The extra ordinary performances by Ayeesha Takia, Gul Panag and Shreyas Talpade is the USP of the film.

10. VICKY DONOR

Vicky Donor touched upon a less talked about topic of sperm donation. The film is a romantic comedy based on the backdrop of this sensitive subject and its implications. The story revolves around Vicky’s (Ayushmann Khurrana) life and how his life takes interesting twists and turns when a fertility expert persuades him to donate sperms. John Abraham, producer of the film wanted to shed light on a serious issue still considered “taboo” in Indian society. Shoojit Sircar, director of the film researched about the subject for three years to avoid any possibility of going wrong with this taboo attached to infertility and artificial insemination.
In and out of this uniform
Like clockwork - an ant in the society.
Class schedules! My mind is numbed.
Classes, intervals. Classes, intervals. Monotony.
Be one with society’s grey.
Russeau was wrong!
Man is never born free,
He knows the minute
He comes screaming to this world,
He is another brocken back before the society’s whip.

Can I say it loud?
No! The self righteous patriarchs wont let me.
Can I curse?
No! The painted idols in temples wont let me.
Can I scream?
No! The gag called human birth wont let me.
While the rain drops rushed through the window panes, she lied upon her mother’s lap. The memories about the past started grabbing her in.

She was born and brought up inside the huge, dark walls of the prison. When she was admitted for schooling, all others used to laugh at her. She didn’t know why, but she was all alone.

She never had any companions at the prison. Every one she met, had a cruel background, which she heard from her mother. Her mother was the only one who was there to love and care her. But she didn’t know why she was imprisoned for these long years.

She saw her mother always in disgust and hopelessness. There were no friends for her at school and she never had any complaints for the same. Because she knows, nobody dares to be friend of a girl from prison.

The only one who looks at her with a kind attitude was the in charge of the prison. His name was Christopher and she used to call him chris uncle. She never asked him too, why her mother was imprisoned. He used to give her sweets and talk to her.
Her mother never had enough time to spend with her as she was having many works at the prison.

One day she saw her mother sick and tired. But she thought it was due to the heavy load of work they were assigned to do. But few weeks later, she had severe throat pain, and couldn’t even eat or drink. The in charge made her go through with a medical checkup. At the end of another day, she was shocked to know that her mother is having throat cancer. And it had spread that much as it can’t be cured.

She doesn’t know what to do. All the other prisoners looked at her with sympathy. Her mother stared at her with tears, but never uttered even a single word. On hearing the huge sound of thunder as lightning she woke up from the memories and lied looking on the rain.

Then, the in charge of the prison stepped in. He sat with her and stared her for long. He then looked up and said to her mother

“I don’t have the fortune to caress a child. I see in her the face of my unborn baby”

Her mother didn’t have words to say. She simply had a smile at him. This is the first time the kid saw her mother smiling whole heartedly.

A smile of hope....
Mumbai is an incredible city. Sometimes, the city itself seems alive and throbbing. The city is life itself. And like life, you never know what’s going to happen next. Some incredible things, however, take place on a regular basis. We’re used to some of them, which are well known, and some others not so much. Spare a thought for those first-time visitors to the city, for everything they encounter, everything they come across, that’s too insane to be real, but totally is.
Now while the crowds, music, singing, dancing, noise and free-day-pass on alcoholism are par for the course, the human pyramids are a sight to behold.
Multi-million-person street party: Ganesh Chathurti
Ganesh Chathurti, a 10-day Hindu festival occurring every year somewhere between mid August and mid September, and celebrated all over the country, begins with artists creating sculptures of the Hindu god Ganapati, from miniature hand-held effigies, to larger versions that can only be transported by vehicle. These sculptures are then delivered to homes and public places all over Mumbai, to be venerated, and then, a few days later, borne along in a human procession, immersed in the nearest body water. Imagine a few million people, along with thousands of trucks loaded with statues and blasting music, singing and dancing through the streets, on their way to the nearest beach, river or tank, in one single night.

Feel free to join in the celebrations to experience the phenomenon first-hand. Hitch a ride on a statue-carrying tempo, all the way to Juhu beach. Immersing yourself in the crowds and noise. At least everyone gets a free bath at end, if they haven’t managed to drown themselves along with their statues.

Human pyramids: Dahi Handi festival
Speaking of crowded festivals and unbelievable sights, there’s the Krishna Janmashtami or Dahi Handi festival in late August. Commemorating the birth of the Hindu god Krishna, the highlight of the festival involves groups or Govindas, forming human pyramids with the sole aim of breaking a clay jar filled with curd, suspended high in the air, for prize money amounting to hundreds of thousands of rupees. In fact, lakhs of young people practice in groups for weeks, in the hope of breaking that pot.

Now while the crowds, music, singing, dancing, noise and free-day-pass on alcoholism are par for the course, the human pyramids are a sight to behold.

The lone midget that gets to break the dahi handi is usually a child. The record number of levels for a Mumbai group is said to be nine stories high. Their closest international counterparts are the Catalans, who, also fond of human pyramids, managed to get to 10 layers.

On festival day, most neighborhoods stage a dahi handi competition. Feel free to stroll around, but avoid the falling bodies.

An ever-increasing backlog of cases: Mumbai High Court
A city like Mumbai with a growing population and crime rate would have a decent justice system in place, wouldn’t it? In what might come as a shock to Mumbai newbies, the city’s high court is actually saturated with cases going as far back as 20 years ago, and then some. And the backlog keeps increasing. In the last count, the number of pending cases was more than 300,000 including some 40,000 criminal cases. Which actually mirrors the national legal situation, with in excess of 4 million pending cases in all the High Courts, and around 30 million pending cases in Trial, High and Supreme courts nationwide. The chief cause of this seems to be the large number of vacancies for judges in high courts. Only two-thirds of the available positions are filled.

Sprawling slums and the rich-poor divide

I know, I know, what could I say about Mumbai's slums that hasn't already been spoken, written or sung about in articles, films or music videos? Our slums have been analyzed, studied, investigated, dissected, condemned, saved, conserved, exploited and celebrated -- but there's no denying their place on this list.

Dharavi, once Asia's largest slum and housing nearly 300,000 people, and the slums in Kurla-Ghatkopar, Mankhurd-Govandi and Bhandup-Mulund - all larger than Dharavi -- account for more than half of Mumbai’s 12.4 billion people.

If the sheer enormity of the figure in that last statement doesn't make you think, what will?

And here's another Mumbai cliche that never fails to astound visitors - the rich-poor juxtaposition.

Where else in the country, or the world, can you find slums or shanties, next to multi-million (and now multi-billion) dollar homes and hotels?

Over-packaging international mail

The esteemed, reliable postal service has an unbelievable system that ensures the fragile items are packaged so securely, they're bound to survive an asteroid attack. And it's compulsory.

Apart from filling out customs forms, the process involves visiting a “package specialist” at certain major post offices in the city, a man who sews your parcel in a cloth sack, sometimes sealing it with a wax stamp. The entire process could take more than an hour, a far cry from the quick dash that characterizes mailing international parcels in foreign countries.

National park in the middle of the city

Leopards, deer and monkeys - right in the heart of Mumbai. While most of Mumbai’s residents have come to take their share of green, i.e. the Sanjay Gandhi national park for granted, let's not forget for a moment how unique it is.

We're talking about a 104-square-kilometer park within a metropolitan area, dividing the western and central suburbs, forcing millions of people who travel between them, to go around the park. We're talking about a protected forested area that houses around 5,000 insect species, 1,000 plants species, 250 bird species, 40 mammal species, 38 reptile species, nine amphibian species and ancient Buddhist caves going back to the first century. The awesome creatures here include leopards, deer, crocodiles, snakes and monkeys. In fact, Mumbai is the only city in the world to have a fully functioning national park with freely roaming large carnivores, within city limits.
Deadly railway system
Trains carry double the amount of passengers they should during rush hour. Spread over a 465-kilometer network, Mumbai’s trains carry almost seven million passengers a day.

And for those not in the know, things are far from perfect. Mumbai’s railways have one of the highest passenger densities in the world. During rush hours (it’s hours here, not hour), around 500 people stuff themselves into train cars meant only for 188. That’s about 14 to 16 people per square meter. That’s more than double the recommended figure. The people in charge even have an official term for this, Super-Dense Crush Load.

We’ve survived bad infrastructure, floods and repeated terrorist attacks, only to go back to work the very next day.

Not something you’d see in a lot of other countries, and something that continues to startle other people to this day. There could be many reasons why mumbaikar’s act this way.

As if this incredible little fact isn’t bad enough, around 3,000 people die in train related accidents each year. They either fall or are pushed off carriages traveling too fast or too full, or are injured while crossing railway tracks.

While figures like this would be enough to shut down a railway network in other countries, Mumbai’s locals roll on, incredibly.

Maybe they are just used to events like these. Maybe they can’t afford to miss work. Maybe they don’t care enough. But they do act this way, and it’s unbelievable.

Nothing fazes the mumbaikar’s
The landmark Leopold Café opened its doors to customers the day after it was targeted in Mumbai’s 2008 terrorist attacks. Perhaps the one thing that other people find most unbelievable about Mumbai is the Mumbaikars themselves.
When fate betrays destiny,
Pain no longer hurts
Hope lost its hope
And life has forgotten to live...

With the lost humanity,
Loneliness lies next to poverty and
The rich are born with ally
Still confused in the mysterious puzzle of life...

The globe rotates over and over,
Not giving a moment of thought
About its ultimate termination
By the unresolved manmade perils...

Death peeks through the stopwatch of the souls,
Aware of the upcoming massacre
And stays silent awaiting its treat
Ready to pounce on...As the time ticks by...
E-wastes contain over 1000 different materials, many of which are toxic and potentially hazardous to environment and human health, if these are not handled in an environmentally sound manner.

Sherly Prakash
Assistant Professor,
School of Computer Science(PG)
Introduction

The electrical and electronic waste (e-waste) is one of the fastest growing waste streams in the world. The increasing “market saturation” in developing countries, “auxiliary market” in developed countries and “high obsolescence rate” make e-waste as one of the fastest growing waste streams. Environmental issues and trade associated with e-waste has driven many countries to introduce interventions.

In accordance with the National Environmental Policy (NEP) and to address sustainable development concerns, there is a need to facilitate the recovery and reuse of useful materials, from waste generated from a process and from the use of any material thereby, reducing the wastes destined for final disposal and to ensure the environmentally sound management of all materials.

The NEP also encourages giving legal recognition and strengthening the informal sectors for collection and recycling of various materials. In particular considering the high recyclable potential of e-waste, such wastes should be subjected to recycling in an environmentally sound manner.
E-waste comprises of wastes generated from used electronic devices and household appliances which are not fit for their original envisioned use and are meant for recovery, recycling or disposal. Such wastes encompass a wide range of electrical and electronic devices such as computers, hand held cellular phones, personal stereos, including large household appliances such as refrigerators, air conditioners etc. E-waste contains over 1000 different materials many of which are toxic and potentially hazardous to environment and human health, if these are not handled in an environmentally sound manner.

The growth of e-waste has significant economic and social impacts. The increase of electrical and electronic products, consumption rates and higher uselessness rate leads to higher generation of e-waste.

E-Waste

Waste of electronics / electrical goods that have reached their end of life. Electronic products often contain hazardous and toxic materials and should not be dumped with other wastes. A threat to human health and also for the environment of course.

Source of e-waste

- IT & Telecom Equipment’s
- Large and small Household Appliances
- Electrical & Electronic Tools.
- Toys & Sports Equipment
- Medical Devices
- Monitoring & Control Instruments
- Mobile phones
- Wireless Equipment’s
- PC/Laptops/Notebooks/gadgets etc..

Facts about Pollutant

Pollutants or toxins in e-waste are typically concentrated in circuit boards, batteries, plastics, and LCDs (liquid crystal displays). Given below is a table showing the major pollutants occurring in waste electrical and electronic equipment’s.

Issues and challenges
- Less reuse
- Legal framework
- Unawareness
- Exposure to workers and community
- Leaching of heavy metals from landfills
- Collection centres’
- Take back policy

Present Recycling scenario
- Takes out useful components
- Ferrous metal sold to metal dealers
- Precious metals are recovered in a very dangerous and hazardous manner
- Rest goes to land filling or water filling
- Annoys ecological factors

How to dispose e-waste?
1. Donate working older equipment to schools/colleges/govt.entites/orphanages.
2. If PC’s are out of order return it to manufactures*
3. Send waste goods to authorized recycling centres for proper disposal.
Probable solutions

1. Need for rigorous health standards and environmental protection laws in India
2. Extended producer obligation
3. Import of waste under license
4. Producer-public-government cooperation
5. Awareness programs and follow ups
6. Penalties those who do not follow the legislation.
7. Choosing safer technology and cleaner substitute
8. Monitoring of compliance rules
9. Reduction of waste at source
10. Investment opportunity in waste management sector
11. Recognition to the unorganised sector in India.

12. Companies that have no take back service in India

Conclusion:
The hazardous nature of e-waste is one of the rapidly growing environmental problems of the world. Roughly 40 million metric tons of electronic waste (e-waste) are produced globally each year, and about 13 percent of that weight is recycled mostly in developing countries. Along with China, India is largest importer of E-waste from developed countries like US, UK and Japan. In India 90% of mobile equipment are imported. The rate of e-waste generation is increasing by 10% every year. So let us remember 3 R’s ……

*HCL and WIPRO in INDIA has best take back services.
in Kerala regrettably, no Licenced E-waste Recycling centre’s available Wrapped in dirt,
with shredded clothes,
she was soaked in blood,
her eyes were bleeding,
not with tears but the stain of blood,
wish I could help her,
but I'm just a spirit who's lost,
I could see her gasp for breath,
I wish I could help her,
but I'm just a spirit who's lost,
lying in a dirty alley,
the poor soul cried out loud,
but in a noisy little world,
hers words go unheard,

Curious of her story,
I go deep in her consciousness,
in a flash of agony,
I see an adorable young girl,
ambitious and striving hard in life,
going about her daily work,
late at night,
rushing back home,
she decides to take up the dark alley,
making her way through,
she hears footsteps following her,
suspicious in her mind,
she paces her walk,
but the footsteps kept getting louder and closer,
with the heart beat rising & breath getting harder,
she felt a presence all around her, frozen with the dilemma of what is to be, the young soul trembled with fear.

A strong grasp held her by the shoulders, she's pulled back into the dark, harsh hands & sharp nails held her down, tearing through her clothes and flesh, odd's of nature against her, the resistance goes in vain, strength in her body depleting with every passing moment, guilt in her mind tearing her apart, the unknown faces and touches, crawling through her body, leaving behind marks and scars, that traumatizes her body and soul, the end of a painful and horrific moment came to a halt, as her body was dragged, leaving behind trails of blood, thrown away amidst trashes like a lifeless scrap, being in consciousness I felt all her pain and agony, confused as to why other humans don't feel the same as I do,

Standing besides her, watching the poor soul take her final breath, a life that was scarred by an insidious action and left to rott in trash, a life that met an unholy end.

In a world of horrific incidents and heartless crowds, its better being a wandering spirit, than being an alive demon.
Miles to Go...
Robin Sharma who captured the hearts of millions with his thought provoking speeches, and the author of the famous book “The Monk Who Sold His Ferrari” once said “when you were born, you cried while the whole world rejoiced, live your life in such a way that when you die the world cries while you rejoice”. It is a fact that we live in an age where we have forgotten what life is all about! We can easily fly over states and countries and have international relationship in business and other realm of life, but, we do have troubles to do a favour to our co-beings. Everyone and everything that enters has a lesson to teach you, wherever you go, whatever you do and whomever you communicate with, has a story to tell you. A lesson, lesson for your fruitful life.

You just imagine about a flowing river. Does it have something to teach you...? We usually think ‘No’...nothing to teach us. But it has something to tell both negative and positive aspects of our life. And they do have the dare to tell us that you learn from me. And we should always select the positive aspects of everything to which you encounter with.

Have you seen a flowing river that gather together the pure water of the Zig-zag streams and natural springs from the mighty mountain ranges and furrows through the lush green meadows and the peace-filled valleys and accelerating itself towards it’s ultimate goal.... The Eternal Sea. It symbolizes two faces, “The Sustainer and The Destroyer”.

As a sustainer it evolves, nourishes, and sustains life at various levels and intensity. There are hundred varieties of water creatures, fish that may extinct, if it had stopped its flow towards its destination. And there are also millions of plants, animals, birds and trees which drink, in their sap of life from river. So it is clear that it has something to teach us positively, that is nothing but ‘where ever we live, there we must be more careful and responsible about the life of our neighbours’, as this flowing river does.

Then what is the negative aspect that it teaches us and we never ever try to follow, that is the destroyer aspect. Do you remember the devastating floods and incredible destructions that it caused to crops, animals and humanity in Kashmir? And you just imagine, if it is raining for a few days continuously, what will happen! The crystal clear water will become muddy and filthy and its humming tune will change in to a roaring cry and it becomes like a wild bull, smashing down anything that comes on its way.

So my dear co-beings, Is there anyone among us, who is courageous enough like Jesus Christ, Martin Luther King, Mahatma Gandhi and Mother Theresa, the well known icons that the world had everseen, whose life is their message or to say that ‘you learn from me’. Do we have something positive to teach others? Do we have the right to say that we have done things always positively? If not, this is high time that you changed your life and behaviour. Unless and until you are not ready to change yourself, you can never be a man who can brim the eyes of the people with tears while

“The woods are lovely, dark, and deep but I have promises to keep, and miles to go before I sleep” (Robert frost)
She has no one to share her thoughts,
She has been travelling alone since her birth.
She was scared to face people,
Maybe because she doesn’t know what she is? And where she is?
Just like a shining star, she shines day and night.
No matter where she’s and who she’s.
She’s always happy with what she has.
Once she had to turn back to know who she’s.
Finally she had to face the truth, that she is just a soul.
With sorrows and pain she cries aloud like no one hears her pain,
As she is just a soul, where no one can feel or see her.
She is no more a baby angel!
But still she shines as a star day and night!
Oh tears!! Why you love me this much?
When my heart failed, you came with love
While the dark touched me,
You accompanied me?
Like a friend who is always with me
You stayed with me when I was left alone.
When my voice couldn’t come out,
you came for help though didn’t help.
My hands got stuck; my voice got silenced with their branches when tried to scream.
You came to help me while no one came your fight was heroic but it got failed as their roots spread over me torn apart
my ambitions and my life.
Hey hands why you tear me?
Scattered my life and my happiness?
And left me to live, while my dreams
And everything in me is killed?
Let me go!! Oh Tears…
Let me die!! They stole everything in me
Now there is nothing there to make me live
Like a doll put in fire..
Oh!! Tears… Let me go…
Let me Die in your lap…

“The earth will not continue to offer its harvest, except with faithful stewardship. We cannot say we love the land and then take steps to destroy it for use by future generations.”

Pope John Paul II

“Save our Mamma Earth”

Life is a precious gift to all living creature. Every creature lives on earth. Genesis and doom of life is on earth. Healthy environment gives healthy life to all living creature.

Nowadays, ONE BILLION PEOPLE IN THE WORLD HAVE NO CLEAN WATER, TWO BILLION PEOPLE HAVE INADEQUATE SANITATION, ONE AND HALF BILLION PEOPLE BREATH AIR THAT IS THREAT TO VERY HUMAN EXISTENCES. Then how can living beings survive on earth.

The human species needs food and water. We need energy. But we also need to protect the ecosystem niches that make survival of our species possible. Beyond that, we need to protect the niches for other species too. Each living creature is depending each other for the survival.

Every people blame industrial countries because of their industrial development causes to the environment issues. Not only industrial countries but also each individual have the responsibility to protect it. Otherwise, our ‘use and throw’ culture will destroy our nature. People destroys nature by dumping waste, deforestation, destruction of paddy land, and the over use of motor vehicles etc. We are the stewards of environment and our resources. People should protect their resources and environment for the future generations.

Mahatma Gandhi once said “Earth provides enough to satisfy every man's needs, but not every man's greed.”

Environment can satisfy the needs of all living creature, but it cannot satisfy the man's greed. If people continues to be this greedy, within next 25 years earth will become a graveyard, it will be in a dreadful situation.

As students we have to do something to save our environment. So let us raise our hands to save our Mamma Earth to live longer………
The world turned into electronic generation, the commerce became e-commerce, marketing became e-marketing and banking became e-banking. And the development of services also turned to e-services, here I have developed a new website “myKochin.com” that I hope it will be most helpful for the persons who are interested to make purchases anywhere in Kochi can use my URL, the “myKochin.com” provides the complete information about all kinds of shops, hotels, restaurants, medias, insurance, banking, theaters and hospitals also.

It is not a commercial website, instead of that it developed under a service manner, the user can get the shopping information and availability of all shops and products entire the city.

The official inauguration of the website done by the honourable MLA of Kochi Shri. Hibi Eiden. And the company is registered in the startup village, Kinfra Hi-tech park, Kalamassery, Kochi.

पिंचरे में बंद चिदिया

वायु के फूल कर हजारों हैं उटते
हम कहते खूब है दिखते
हरी नीली सफेद फूलियों
रंग विरंग आसमान के तारे
केसने देखी आसू उनकी
जो पिंजरे में बंद अनोकी
दिखाने सबी कौं बंद है सारी
क्या यही है बदलती इनसानीयत हमारी
उनमे भी है छोटी सी जानीया
हमें तेज ने उठान
फर क्या है पक्षी दल दल मे
सारे चिदिया बंद पिंजरे मे?
खिलाफिलते हमें तारे
कुछ नहीं जिदनी उडान के मारे
खोल खोल है जान शारे
पिंजरे में बंद चिदिया हमारे
मैं हूँ ऐक चलती नाव
जाना है मुझे बहुत दूर
अंधान नदी और समुद्र पार कर
जाना है मुझे बहुत दूर
बहुत बार इस बड़ी पवन से
जाती हूँ मेरी दिशा
जाना है मुझे अंजल बनके
अंधान सागर की पार करके
अपनी यात्रा पूरा करके
बनना है मुझे सफल इस जन्म में
मेरा नाम वारू, मेरा उम्र ७५ साल, मेरा पिता का नाम मोतिलाल, मेरा धर गोरखपुर, मेरी खूबियाँ स्वागत, बनाना, खेलना...। अरे ये क्या है.. मेरा सपना...। ये कौनसी सवाल है? वारू अपने आपसे पूछा। वारू अपने स्कूल से देखे हुए ऐसे छोम भर रही थी। मे क्या लिख दूं मंगवान... मुझे कोई सपना भी नहीं है। अगर मे ने सवाल का जवाब नहीं लिखा ता मास्टरजी मुझे जोदी। और मे ऐसा कुछ लेखा तो मास्टरजी पक्का मुझे पकड़ेगे। क्या कभी मंगवान....।
अभाव के रूप में आप उठ पड़ी। “अरे... या... तू स्कूल नहीं जा रहे है क्या...?”
जल्दी तैयार हो जाओ। “मैं ने बिछलाई। वारू स्कूल केलिए निकल पड़ी।”

रास्ते में वारू यही सोचती रही, कि मास्टरजी ने ऐसा सवाल क्यों दिया? उसने जब स्कूल पहुंचा तो मास्टरजी को देखा। उसने बूढ़ा, “मास्टरजी, क्या मैं आपसे एक सवाल पछि स्कूल हूं?” “हाँ, जरूर!” मास्टरजी ने बोला। अपने इस फोम में ऐसा सवाल क्यों पूछा? और मुझे तो कोई समय भी नहीं है। इसका उत्तर लेकर जरूर है क्या? वारू ने अपनी फोम मास्टरजी को दे कर पूछा। मास्टरजी ने फोम को देखा और वारू से कहा “वारू, जब तुझ्हरा क्लास कदम होजायेंगे तब मेरे पास आजाना।
अब तुम क्लास जाओ।” “जी मास्टरजी। लेकिन ये फोम ....!” वारू के बात पूरे होने से पहले मास्टरजी चले गये थे।

जब वो अपनी क्लास पहुंची तो सारी बच्चे अपने अपने भरे हुए फोम की बात कर रहे थे। पर वारू बड़ी उदास होकर अपने स्थान पर बैठी। क्लास के बाद वो जल्दी मास्टरजी से मेले गयी।

“अरे वारू, आओ, यहाँ बैठो।” मास्टरजी ने वारू को कुर्सी पर बिठाया। वारू, तुम क्या बनना चाहती हो? मास्टरजी ने पूछा। वारू ने सवाल सुनकर हैरान हो गयी। है भगवान... फिर से वही सवाल? यही सवाल पूछने केवल में ने वहाँ आई। और अब उठटा वो मुझे से ये सवाल पूछ रहे है...। मैं क्या करूँ अब? उसने अपने आपसे कहा। वारू का चेहरा देखकर मास्टरजी को बात समझ आ गया। वारू, मुझे तुम से यही कहना है कि, समय देखना हमारा जीवन केलें एक शक्तिकी तरह है। जब हम अपने आनेवाले जीवन के बारे में समय देखना शुरू करेंगे तब हमारे जीवन बदल जाएगे। और फिर हम वही सपने को हकीकत में बदलने की कोशिश करेंगे।
अपने जीवन के। एक उम्मीद की किरदार है। मास्टरजी के बाल वृक्ष का आसपास अपने पर चली गई।

आज, कई साल बाद पूरे देश में मशहूर होटलो में एक नाम “उड़ान” का है। और उसका मालिक है... वारू मोतिलाल। उसने शब्द सुनकर परेशान हुए वही 95 साल की लड़की। पर आज उसकी संघटन बदल गयी है। आज वारू अपने सपने को पूरा होते देखकर बड़ी खुश है। और कोई थी वारू से अपने जीवन का राज पूर्ण है तो वो यहीं कहती है कि, “सपने देखो, और अपना आप पर भरोसा लाइ, फिर जिन्दगी दीने की मजा हो और ही होंगे.....!” यह कहने पर उसकी चेहरे पर एक धारा मुस्कान आती है। और वही मुस्कान सबकुछ बताती है।
